Database localization strategy

Database localization is done by checking the locale the user is using on the app and based on that, the flashcard set is stored in the database with a column indicating the language it was created in.

The flashcard sets are then displayed on the app by which locale is chosen by the user. If the locale is Russian, only display flashcard sets that are in Russian etc.